- Walsh will be out next week; their surveyor will be on site to mark the boundaries for conservation and erosion control limits. Walsh has an appointment with Bridgette from Conservation for erosion control.
- Walsh will also be there Tuesday to take pre-construction photos.
- John Forresto asked when we will see walls on site with a shovel in the ground.
- Jim Cray answered that the first thing Walsh will do is start with the erosion control then move to tree clearing and finish with erosion control. They distributed a pre-liminary site work schedule.
- Barry Smith added that at the beginning of July that Walsh should start digging.
- John Forresto wants to know if that is the schedule we started with in the beginning.
